Let's Start!

Pronunciation Spot: Cha Cha Cha ... It's time to dance!

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like to dance with a partner or by yourself?
- Do you prefer to dance to fast music or slow music?

Can Do Statements

- I can say and use the sound st.
- I can describe the quality of an object or a person.
- I can stress new information.

Let's Explore!

Get your dancing shoes on ... it's time to rumba!

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Strike a pose!

One of the fastest growing sports in the world isn't something people would expect. In fact, most people don't realize that it's a sport at all. It's ballroom dancing! All over the globe, great numbers of people are doing the waltz, tango, and rumba in classes, exhibitions, and competitions.

Want to stay healthy and toned? These athletes are some of the fittest and most dynamic in the world. In countries like Japan and Korea, ballroom dancing is popular with older people because it reminds them of the past and it is a great way to maintain one's ability and stop body stiffness. Younger people are trying it too because it's one of the best ways to meet friends. It's also a very romantic thing to do on that all-important "first date."

So many people have taken up ballroom dancing that it became an exhibition sport in the 2000 Olympics! Who knows, maybe someday there will be an Olympic Waltzing Champion of the world!

Let's Practice!

Let's start with the consonant blend st.

Instructions: Read the following sentences aloud. Focus on the ST sound. Compare your pronunciation with your partner's and check with your instructor.

1. to strike
2. stiffness
3. stay
4. past
5. Strike a pose!
6. Want to stay healthy and toned?
7. Younger people are trying it too because it's one of the best ways to meet friends.
8. It is a great way to maintain one's flexibility and stop body stiffness.

Let's Practice!

Who is the best English speaker in the room? Let's use superlatives!

Learning Points

St sound combinations

Consonant clusters like st can occur at the beginning of a word in English. Practice blending the sound from one consonant sound into the next without adding a vowel sound in between.

Example:

storm	stage	stun	stump
story	stove	student	stub

Examples:

- Strike a pose!
- Want to stay healthy and toned?

Linking and deletion of superlatives

You use a superlative adjective to express the highest of a quality. You use a superlative adjective to talk about one thing or person in a group of things. You always use the with the superlative.

In natural conversation, it is common to link and delete some sounds in the superlative adjective if there is a similar sound in the next word.

For example:

The strangest story.

You delete the 't' sound and link the 's' sound.

The stranges_story.

Sometimes this makes it hard to listen to native speakers talk. If you know the rule, you can listen better.

The smallest sweater = The smalles_sweater

The loudest truck = The loudes_truck

Examples:

- the most dynamic
- the best ways
