Let's Start!

Want to be adventurous?

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about free time activities.
- I can talk about people's habits.
- I can talk about how something happens or how someone behaves.

Ask your partner:

- Do you prefer to do activities indoors or outdoors? Why?
- Have you tried parachuting or hang gliding?
- Would you like to try these activities? Why or why not?

Let's Explore!

In this article, Sally explores different hobbies and interests.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

People are always finding interesting things to do in their free time. Regardless of what kind of person you are, there is definitely a hobby or activity for you, either indoors or outdoors.

If you're the adventurous type, you will probably enjoy the thrill of hang gliding or parachuting. If you prefer staying closer to the ground, canoeing will likely be more your speed.

Some hobbies like mountain climbing take a lot of skill and practice. Each year, thousands of people enthusiastically prepare for new climbing opportunities. Apparently, these mountain climbers make it look easy, but don't be fooled. Mountain climbing can often be quite dangerous.

Certainly, a safer option is playing games. Bridge is a very popular card game around the world, and chess has been played for thousands of years.

With all these interesting hobbies it can be hard to choose what to do. There is never a dull moment when you have so many options to choose from. Even harder is finding the free time for them!

Let's practice!

Terry talks about the free time activities of some people he knows.

Instructions: Proofread the sentences. Correct the mistakes in every sentence. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

1. People are always finding interested things to do in their free time.
2. Sometimes, my friends and I like to go mountain climb in the gym.
3. I have a very adventure cousin.
4. He often goes parachutes.
5. There is never a dull moment when you have so many options to chosen from.

Let's practice!

Which hobby is definitely* for you?

*Notice! The word "definitely" has two letter "i"s, but you do not always hear them when people speak.

Instructions: Use the following expressions to complete the sentences: enthusiastically prepare - Apparently - will likely be - is definitely

1. There _____ a hobby or activity for you.
2. If you prefer staying closer to the ground, rafting or canoeing _____ more your speed.
3. Each year, thousands of people _____ for new climbing opportunities.
4. _____, these mountain climbers make it look easy.

Learning Points

Adverbs of Frequency

Adverbs of frequency (always, usually, never, etc.) say how often something happens.

Sometimes the adverb specifies the exact frequency of the action, like yearly or daily.

They are usually placed before the verb. With verb tenses that have two parts, like the Present Continuous tense, they are placed between the auxiliary and the main verb.

Adverb	How often?
always	100%
often	80%
usually	60%
rarely	10%
never	0%

Examples:

- People are always finding interesting things to do in their free time.
- There is never a dull moment when you have so many options to choose from.

Learning Points

Adverbs of Manner

You use adverbs of manner to describe how something is done.

Example: She walked slowly.

How did she walk? Slowly.

Many adverbs are formed by adding -ly to an adjective:

Examples: sad sadly curious curiously

You take out the letter -y and add -ily to adjectives ending in -y.

Example: angry angrily

The adjectives fast, hard, well and straight are exceptions. They do not change when they become adverbs.

Some adverbs, like basically or generally, are often placed at the beginning of the sentence. You use a comma after the adverb.

Adjective	Adverb
definite	definitely
apparent	apparently
enthusiastic	enthusiastically
apparent	apparently

Examples:

- There is definitely a hobby or activity for you.
- Apparently, these mountain climbers make it look easy, but don't be fooled.
