Let's Start!

Which kite is the most original?

Learning Outcome

Describe routines and regular activities in a wider range of social and work contexts.

Ask your partner:

- Would you like to attend a kite-flying festival? Why or why not?
- What other festival would you like to attend?

Can Do Statements

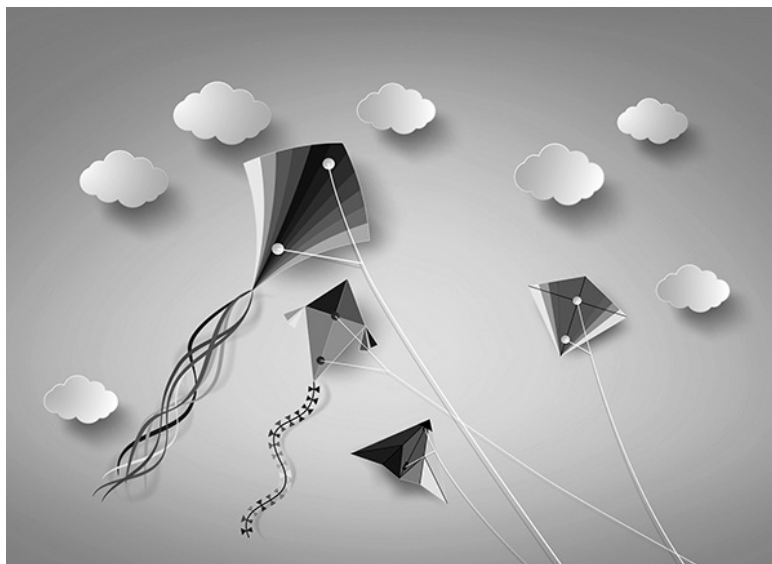

- I can talk about free time activities.
- I can talk about general and specific quantities.
- I can compare two things or people and describe the quality of an object or a person.

Let's Explore!

Sally writes about a kite festival in Brisbane, Australia.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

"Look in the sky! It's a bird! It's a plane! It's Superman!" No, it's a kite! Tons of kites are soaring the cool skies of Brisbane, Australia, which is celebrating the end of summer with a kite-flying festival. There are some fierce dragons from China, a few spaceships from Cape Canaveral, and even a couple of Mickey Mouse kites.

The prizes, however, will go to the homemade kites. There is a prize for the most beautiful kite, the highest flying kite, the largest kite, the most original kite, and even the ugliest kite! The judges will have to decide which kites are better, more sophisticated and more stunning!

Even if you're just learning the ropes in kite-flying, going to some festivals might be the best way to connect to other kite-flyers and to see the most incredible kites from around the world. Your own kite flying skills may improve just by watching some of the best in these competitions or demonstrations.

Let's Practice!

It's hard to compare kites! You be the judge.

Instructions: Match the adjectives in column A with their comparative/superlative form in Column B.

COLUMN A

1. stunning
2. better
3. more sophisticated
4. bigger
5. more unique
6. uglier
7. higher flying
8. prettier

COLUMN B

- a. the largest
- b. the most beautiful
- c. the ugliest
- d. highest flying kite
- e. the most stunning
- f. the most sophisticated
- g. the most original
- h. the best

Let's Practice!

This kite looks like a spaceship from Cape Canaveral! That one looks like Mickey Mouse!

Instructions: Use the words from the box to correctly complete the paragraph. Read the sentences aloud. Check your pronunciation with your instructor.

Quantifiers

You use a quantifier before a noun to indicate the amount or number of an item. Quantifiers do not indicate a specific quantity but rather a general amount.

- You use quantifiers with both count and non-count nouns.
- Quantifiers like a few, several, many, dozens, hundreds, thousands, or millions, can only be used with count nouns.
- You can use all of the quantifiers below with both count and non-count nouns.

Quantifier	Meaning
a couple	two
a few	around three or more
no/none	0, nothing
any /not any	ask about a number or amount/say there is no
some	a small, general number or amount
a lot of / lots of / tons	a very large number or amount
plenty of	more than you need

Examples:

- There are some fierce dragons from China, a few spaceships from Cape Canaveral, and even a couple of Mickey Mouse kites.

Learning Points

Comparatives/Superlatives

You use comparative adjectives to compare yourself to another person.

You use a superlative adjective to compare yourself or something to a group of people.

You can compare things using the words more (than) or less (than). You can also use adjectives to compare things. Some adjectives change to different words in the comparative and superlative form. With one syllable words, you add -er to the adjective to make the comparative form. You add -est to the adjective to make the superlative form.

With words of two or more syllables, you add the word more before the adjective or adverb in the comparative form. You add the most before the adjective or the adverb in the superlative form.

The adjective highflying is one word, but it is separated into two words in the comparative and superlative forms.

Adjective or Adverb	Comparative	Superlative
	more	the most
	less	the least
highflying	higher flying	the highest flying
large	larger	the largest
ugly	uglier	the ugliest
beautiful	more beautiful	the most beautiful
sophisticated	more sophisticated	the most sophisticated
stunning	more stunning	the most stunning

Examples:

- There is a prize for the most beautiful kite, the highest flying kite, the largest kite, the most original kite, and even the ugliest kite!
- The judges will have to decide which kites are better, more sophisticated and more stunning!
