Vanessa and Sally chat about Sally's articles. Have you tried the cha-cha?

* "Tried" is the past participle of the verb try. The y changes to i before you add -ed.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Vanessa: Hi Sally!
- Sally: Hi Vanessa!
- Vanessa: You've been busy writing articles on leisure activities and entertainment! I eagerly read them all.
- Sally: Which hobby is for you?
- Vanessa: I'm not sure. I learned a lot about kite -flying. It seems to be such a peaceful activity. I have always wanted to try it. Have you?
- Sally: Yes, I flew a couple of kites. People love talking about their original creations. I spoke to a few prize winners. They proudly answered my all questions.
- Vanessa: How did you get the idea about dancing?
- Sally: I have gone ballroom dancing, so basically, I know a bit about different dances like the foxtrot and the cha-cha. I have never tried the waltz.
- Vanessa: I would rather try the samba.
- Sally: Me too! You should try some of the sports like parachuting or hang gliding!
- Vanessa: I'm not sure about that! They seem like fun, but they're too dangerous for me.
- Sally: I guess they are. Canoeing would be a safer bet.

Learning Points

Present Perfect and Simple Past

You use the Present Perfect tense to talk about a finished action or event that is connected to the present in some way.

You use the Simple Past tense to talk about a finished action or event not necessarily connected to the present.

You can use the Present Perfect tense to talk about experience. When you use the Present Perfect tense, you think about the past and present together. There is some connection between what happened in the past and now.

- I have learned English = I learned English in the past and now I can speak English.
- He has bought a painting = He bought the painting in the past and now he has a painting.

We use have/has + the past participle of the verb in Present Perfect sentences.

Look at the chart about how to form the Present Perfect tense:

Main Verb	Past Tense	Past Participle	Present Perfect Tense
do	did	done	I have done ...
be	was, were	been	You've been ...
begin	began	begun	You have begun ...

Examples:

- You've been busy writing articles on leisure activities and entertainment!
- I have done some ballroom dancing.

Learning Points

Adverbs of Manner

You use adverbs of manner to describe how something is done.

Example: She walked slowly.

How did she walk? Slowly.

Many adverbs are formed by adding -ly to an adjective:

Examples: sad/sadly, curious/curiously

You take out the letter -y and add -ily to adjectives ending in -y.

Example: angry/angrily

The adjectives fast, hard, well and straight are exceptions. They do not change when they become adverbs.

Some adverbs, like basically or generally, are often placed at the beginning of the sentence. You use a comma after the adverb.

Adjective	Adverb
eager	eagerly
proud	proudly
basic	basically
definite	definitely

Examples:

- Vanessa: I eagerly read all your articles.
- Sally: The prize winners proudly answered my all questions.
